JURY DEMAND

PARTIES

1
2 1. Plaintiff MATTHEW SANDERSON (“Sanderson”) is an international
3 celebrity drag performer known professionally as “Detox.” Sanderson gained 4 notoriety from appearing on the television shows “RuPaul’s Drag Race Season 5”
5 and “RuPaul’s Drag Race All Stars 2,” has appeared in numerous music videos, web
6 series, and is a recording artist. Plaintiff also tours and performs for live audiences 7 throughout the world. Plaintiff resides in the City of Valley Village, County of Los 8 Angeles, State of California.

9 2. Defendant PRODUCER ENTERTAINMENT GROUP (“PEG”) is a 10 management and booking agency for approximately 30 drag performers. PEG is a
11 New York Limited Liability Company with its central office located at 3003
12 Newtown Avenue, #5PH, Astoria, New York 11102. PEG also maintains an office
13 in Los Angeles, California, located at 453 Colyton Street, Los Angeles, California 14 90013.

15 3. Defendant DAVID CHARPENTIER (“Charpentier”) is the Founder 16 and Manager of Defendant Producer Entertainment Group. Upon information and 17 belief, Charpentier is a resident of the City and State of New York.

18 4. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Defendant Charpentier, was an 19 agent of Defendant PEG.

20 5. Defendant HENRY RAVELO (“Ravelo”) is the President of Defendant
21 Six Degrees Worldwide Entertainment, a talent management and booking firm.
22 Ravelo is also listed as the Television, Film and Theatrical Agent and Director of 23 Production Development of Defendant PEG. Upon information and belief, Ravelo is 24 a resident of the City and State of New York and resides at 484 W. 43rd Street,
25 Apartment 10C, New York, NY 10036.

26 6. Defendant SIX DEGREES WORLDWIDE ENTERTAINMENT, also 27 known as “Six Degrees Management & PR,” (collectively referred to as “Six 28 Degrees”) is an “international talent management and booking firm” according to its

1 website (www.6dwe.com) and, upon information and belief, is a fictitious business
2 name for Defendant Ravelo. Six Degrees is a New York entity doing business at 3 484 W. 43rd Street, Apartment 10C, New York, NY 10036.

4 7. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Defendant Ravelo was an agent
5 of Defendant PEG and an agent of Defendant Six Degrees.

6 8. At all times herein mentioned, all Defendants, individually and 7 collectively, are and were agents and/or joint venturers of each other, and in doing 8 the acts alleged herein were acting within the course and scope of such agency.

9 9. Each Defendant had actual and/or constructive knowledge of the acts 10 of the other Defendant as described herein, and ratified, approved, joined in, 11 acquiesced in, and/or authorized the acts of the other, and/or retained the benefits of 12 said acts.

13 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

14 10. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 15 28 U.S.C. § 1332 because the Plaintiff is a citizen of California and Defendants are 16 citizens of New York and the amount in controversy is in excess of $75,000.00.

17 11. This Court also has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 18 1367(a) over Plaintiffs' claims seeking damages for violations of state law because 19 said claims arise out of the same case or controversy for which, as set forth above, 20 this Court already has proper subject matter jurisdiction.

21 12. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants in that, among 22 other things, Defendants do business in this Judicial District, and Plaintiffs do 23 business and are suffering harm in this Judicial District.

24 13. Venue is proper in this Judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 25 1391(b)-(d).

26 COMMON FACTUAL BACKGROUND

27 14. On or about March 28, 2012, Sanderson began working with 28 Defendants Charpentier and PEG by way of Sanderson's membership in the musical

1 group, DWV. At the time Defendants Charpentier and PEG represented one of the 2 other members of DWV, and due to the success of the group, Charpentier
3 approached Sanderson to enter into a relationship whereby Charpentier and PEG
4 would procure employment for Sanderson.

5 15. At the time, PEG's only employee was Defendant Charpentier, who 6 operated PEG as an alter ego for his personal services.

7 16. On or around February 2016, Defendant Ravelo began to work with 8 Defendant PEG as a stage manager for a tour in which Sanderson participated.
9 Ravelo was later presented as an employee of PEG, booking talent for television 10 and film projects.

11 17. Ravelo also operates Six Degrees Worldwide Entertainment, a 12 separate talent management and booking agency, which, according to the website
13 <http://www.6dwe.com/working-roster>, lists several of PEG's clients as Six Degrees
14 Worldwide Entertainment's clients. Sanderson is not listed as one of Six Degrees
15 Worldwide Entertainment's clients on the website.

16 18. On or around September 19, 2015, Charpentier sent Sanderson a 17 Facebook message asking him to participate in "a really special project" that would 18 be an "investment in continuing and supporting" his career. Sanderson agreed to co-
19 write, record and promote a song for PEG's "Christmas Queens" album. Sanderson 20 was to co-write and record one song to be embodied on a holiday compilation 21 album and sold online, as well as film a music video for the song.

22 19. In exchange for the above, Sanderson was to receive $500, to be paid
23 after 5,000 copies of the album were sold. After costs were recouped, Sanderson 24 was to receive an additional $500 at sales of 10,000 units, an additional $1,000 at 25 20,000 units, and an additional $1,000 for every 10,000 units sold after the initial 26 20,000. The song Sanderson recorded was called "This is How We Jew It," which 27 has received over 1.6 million YouTube views. It is for sale online, including on 28 iTunes both as an album and a single, as well as available on streaming services like

1 Spotify.

2 20. Defendants represented to Sanderson that he would receive 3 performance royalties and sales royalties after the compilation album recouped its 4 costs. However, Sanderson never received any performance royalties from the song,
5 nor was the song registered in Sanderson's name with any Performing Rights
6 Organization or other agency tasked with collecting and distributing royalties to 7 songwriters and performers.

8 21. PEG, as the owner of the compilation album, was responsible for 9 registering the song with the applicable rights-collecting agencies. Upon 10 information and belief, PEG collected the performance royalties but did not 11 disseminate them to Sanderson. Alternatively, PEG may not have registered or 12 improperly registered the song, leaving the performance royalties due Sanderson 13 uncollected and uncollectable.

14 22. In 2016, Sanderson was asked to perform in the "Christmas Queens 15 2016" tour and to co-write and record a song, titled "Homemade For The Holidays," 16 which features Sanderson and his mother, Patty Sanderson. "Homemade for the 17 Holidays" contains lyrics centered around a Sanderson family recipe. It is for sale 18 online, including on iTunes both as an album and a single, as well as available on 19 streaming services like Spotify.

20 23. While Sanderson was paid for the live performances, he has not 21 received any performance royalties from "Homemade for the Holidays." PEG, as 22 the owner of the tour and compilation album, was responsible for registering the 23 song with the applicable rights-collecting agencies. Upon information and belief, 24 PEG collected those royalties but did not disseminate them to Sanderson.
25 Alternatively, PEG may not have registered or improperly registered the song,
26 leaving the royalties due Sanderson uncollected and uncollectible.

27 24. At Charpentier's insistence that Sanderson put out new music, despite 28 the recent passing of Sanderson's father, Sanderson also co-wrote and recorded the

1 song “Supersonic” and paid all production expenses himself, upon the condition that
2 Sanderson own both the publishing and recording copyrights for “Supersonic.”
3 Since being released in September 2016, the “Supersonic” video has over 650,000
4 YouTube views, is for sale online, including on iTunes both as an album and a 5 single, as well as available on streaming services like Spotify.

6 25. Charpentier arranged a co-writer to work with Sanderson and secured
7 a recording studio in which to record “Supersonic.” Charpentier led Sanderson to 8 believe all necessary “Work Made For Hire” documentation, as statutorily defined 9 by 17 U.S.C. § 101, was executed so that Sanderson was the owner of the 10 “Supersonic” publishing and recording copyrights in their entirety. Despite telling 11 Sanderson he owned the “Supersonic” publishing and recording copyrights, 12 Charpentier did not secure the necessary rights to effectuate Sanderson’s ownership.
13 Sanderson is therefore precluded from collecting all applicable royalties for the 14 song.

15 26. Defendants also failed to pursue performance and sponsorship
16 opportunities brought to Defendants by Sanderson, including a national sponsorship
17 deal with MAC makeup and various other live performance opportunities.

18 27. Whenever Sanderson was contacted for a performance or sponsorship 19 opportunity, Sanderson would refer the representative to Defendant Charpentier. On 20 numerous occasions, Charpentier failed to follow up with those representatives,
21 which led to Sanderson missing out on the performance and sponsorship
22 opportunity and damaging Sanderson’s reputation in the entertainment industry.

23 28. Upon information and belief, Defendants substituted and attempted to 24 substitute other performers from whom Defendants either earned a higher 25 commission for certain performance and sponsorship opportunities or as a means by 26 which to punish Sanderson.

27 29. Defendant Ravelo interfered with an opportunity presented to 28 Sanderson’s attorneys from the producers of a “Playing House,” a cable television

1 program. Sanderson was asked to appear as his celebrity persona, Detox, on an 2 episode of Playing House, to be filmed in February 2017.

3 30. Defendants became aware of the opportunity through certain other
4 clients who would also be appearing on the episode of the program. Defendants 5 contacted Sanderson to ask if he was planning on appearing in the show, and in 6 response, Defendants were told the appearance was already being handled through 7 Sanderson's attorneys.

8 31. After Sanderson confirmed the appearance, Defendant Ravelo emailed 9 Playing House's producer on January 24, 2017, writing, "I'm told Detox is doing a 10 booking in Korea and will be unavailable for Playing House..." and then suggested 11 the producers hire one of three other celebrity drag queens Defendants represent to 12 replace Sanderson.

13 32. At all times Ravelo had access to Sanderson's calendar, and therefore 14 was aware the Korea booking referred to in his email to the Playing House producer
15 was not scheduled until the end of April 2017. This was confirmed in a January 24, 16 2017 email from Charpentier, "They are tentatively looking at April 28 or 29." The 17 Playing House appearance is scheduled for February 22, 2017. Thus, Ravelo
18 knowingly and intentionally attempted to usurp an opportunity from Sanderson both 19 to punish Sanderson and so that PEG would earn a booking commission.

20 33. Upon information and belief, Ravelo offered to Sanderson and then 21 gave to another client a sponsorship opportunity with the makeup brand Urban 22 Decay as a punitive measure against Sanderson for reasons unknown.

23 34. Upon information and belief, other PEG has similarly interfered in 24 other business opportunities for Sanderson, including refusing to share information
25 with Sanderson related to performance opportunities, demanding third party tour
26 organizers submit merchandise sales to PEG rather than to Sanderson so that PEG 27 could commission those sales despite an agreement that merchandise sales would 28 not be commissioned, and withholding documents related to performances from 1 Sanderson.

2 35. A PEG employee threatened to withdraw performance opportunities
3 from Sanderson if he did not comply with PEG's demands to share attorney-client
4 privileged contract negotiations on a separate sponsorship agreement.

5 36. Despite multiple requests from Sanderson and his attorneys,
6 Defendants failed and continue to fail to a) produce timely, accurate, or complete
7 accountings showing all of the fees earned by Sanderson and the commission taken
8 by Respondents; 2) all written agreements between the parties; 3) all written 9 agreements entered into by Respondents on Sanderson's behalf; and 4) deposits
10 from third parties for Sanderson's personal appearances.

11 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

12 (Breach of Fiduciary Duty)

13 (Against All Defendants)

14 37. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every foregoing allegation
15 contained in this Complaint as though said paragraphs were set forth in full herein.

16 38. Defendants Charpentier and PEG, acting as Sanderson's booking agent, 17 owed Sanderson fiduciary duties of the highest character, including the duties of 18 loyalty, honesty, care, and good faith and fair dealing. Sanderson relied on 19 Defendants to discharge their duties and obligations in a manner that would cause no
20 detriment to Sanderson.

21 39. Sanderson placed his trust and confidence in Defendants in that regard,
22 which was assumed and accepted. Defendants were obligated to diligently perform 23 all services and responsibilities with the utmost due care and good faith.

24 40. Defendants breached their fiduciary duties to Sanderson by, among 25 other things, a) failing to obtain Sanderson's rights to and royalties from musical
26 compositions and recordings while misrepresenting to Sanderson his ownership
27 interest in those musical compositions and recordings, keeping those royalties for
28 PEG and preventing Sanderson from having full ownership of those copyrights; b)

1 failing to pursue performance and sponsorship opportunities brought to Defendants
 2 for and by Sanderson, and upon information and belief, substituting other performers
 3 from whom Defendants earned a higher commission; c) attempting to misappropriate
 4 a business opportunity by making knowingly false and misleading representations
 5 regarding Sanderson's availability and replacing Sanderson with different
 6 performers represented by Defendants; d) demanding third party tour organizers
 7 submit merchandise sales to PEG rather than to Sanderson so that PEG could 8 commission those sales despite an agreement that merchandise sales would not be
 9 commissioned; and e) refusing to disclose all material information in connection
 10 with Sanderson's future and prior performances, and payments owed, all of which 11 caused and continue to cause damage to Sanderson's interests. This conduct amounts
 12 to a breach of the special duties of care, loyalty and competence owed by Defendants 13 to Sanderson.

14 41. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breaches of their 15 duties, Sanderson has suffered damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

16 42. Sanderson believes Defendants' conduct was intentionally deceitful 17 and done with the intent of depriving Sanderson of his property and legal rights, and 18 to cause him injury. Defendants' actions subjected Sanderson to unjust hardship and 19 undue injury. Defendants' conduct was malicious, fraudulent and oppressive, and 20 was committed with a conscious disregard of the rights of Sanderson. Accordingly, 21 Sanderson is entitled to an award of punitive or exemplary damages in an amount 22 sufficient to punish Defendants.

23 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

24 (Negligence)

25 (Against Defendants Charpentier and PEG)

26 43. Sanderson repeats and realleges each and every foregoing allegation
 27 contained in this Complaint as though said paragraphs were set forth in full herein.

28 44. Pursuant to the arrangement between Sanderson and PEG, PEG would

1 procure employment opportunities in the entertainment industry for Sanderson, and 2 in exchange PEG would take a 15% commission from Sanderson's compensation for 3 those opportunities.

4 45. At all relevant times, an agent/principal relationship existed between 5 Sanderson, on the one hand, and Defendants Charpentier and PEG, on the other 6 hand.

7 46. At all relevant times, Sanderson was ready, willing and able to perform
8 as his celebrity persona, Detox.

9 47. At all relevant times, Defendants Charpentier and PEG had a duty to 10 exercise the care and skill of a booking agent in a same or similar position in 11 executing their obligations as Sanderson's booking agent.

12 48. Defendants Charpentier and PEG breached the standard of care of a 13 reasonably competent booking agent in similar circumstances and failed to exercise a 14 reasonable degree of care and skill by not timely responding to requests for 15 Sanderson to perform, ignoring performance requests entirely, and conducting 16 business in a matter that reflected negatively on Sanderson.

17 49. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants Charpentier and PEG's 18 failure to exercise a reasonable standard of care, Sanderson was damaged in an 19 amount to be proven at trial.

20 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

21 (Fraudulent Misrepresentation)

22 (Against Defendants PEG and Charpentier)

23 50. Sanderson repeats and realleges each and every foregoing allegation
24 contained in this Complaint as though said paragraphs were set forth in full herein.

25 51. Defendant Charpentier insisted that Sanderson record and release a new 26 song. Sanderson agreed upon the condition that Sanderson own both the publishing 27 and recording copyrights in the song, and paid all production expenses himself in 28 furtherance of that condition.

1 52. Charpentier represented to Sanderson that all necessary “Work Made
2 For Hire” documentation, as statutorily defined by 17 U.S.C. § 101, was executed.

3 53. Charpentier arranged a co-writer to work with Sanderson and secured
4 a recording studio in which to record “Supersonic.” Sanderson then co-wrote and 5 recorded “Supersonic.”

6 54. Despite representing to Sanderson he owned the “Supersonic”
7 publishing and recording copyrights, Charpentier did not secure the necessary rights
8 to effectuate Sanderson’s ownership. Sanderson is therefore precluded from 9 collecting all applicable royalties earned for “Supersonic.”

10 55. Charpentier knew he had not secured the rights he led Sanderson to 11 believe were secured, thus intentionally and fraudulently misrepresenting material
12 facts to Sanderson.

13 56. Sanderson reasonably relied on Charpentier’s representation that 14 Sanderson would own the publishing and recording copyrights in “Supersonic” to 15 Sanderson’s financial detriment. Sanderson does not fully own “Supersonic” and 16 cannot collect all royalties earned, which continue to accrue.

17 57. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants Charpentier and PEG’s
18 fraudulent misrepresentation, Sanderson was damaged in an amount to be proven at 19 trial.

20 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

21 (Intentional Interference With Prospective Business Advantage)

22 (Against All Defendants)

23 58. Sanderson repeats and realleges each and every foregoing allegation
24 contained in this Complaint as though said paragraphs were set forth in full herein.

25 59. There existed a series of prospective economic relationships between 26 Sanderson and third parties who sought to hire Sanderson to promote their products
27 or events, resulting in an economic benefit to Sanderson.

28 60. Defendants were aware of these prospective economic relationships

1 and future economic benefits Sanderson would have derived from those relationships
2 because Defendants were tasked with procuring and arranging such relationships on 3 Sanderson's behalf.

4 61. Defendants maliciously intended to harm Sanderson by undertaking
5 actions designed to intentionally interfere, disrupt, and/or prevent Sanderson's 6 prospective economic relationships, including intentionally misinforming the 7 producer of a television show that Sanderson was no longer available for a guest 8 appearance on the television show and suggested three other performers available to 9 take Sanderson's place. Defendants did so in retaliation for not receiving a 10 commission for the television show appearance, which was negotiated between the 11 production company and Sanderson's attorneys.

12 62. Sanderson is informed and believes and on that basis alleges that 13 Defendants additionally engaged in wrongful, malicious conduct intended to harm
14 Sanderson's prospective economic relationships and reputation in the entertainment 15 industry by a) failing to obtain Sanderson's rights to and royalties from musical
16 compositions and recordings while misrepresenting to Sanderson his ownership
17 interest in those musical compositions and recordings, keeping those royalties for
18 PEG and preventing Sanderson from having full ownership of those copyrights; b)
19 failing to pursue performance and sponsorship opportunities brought to Defendants
20 for and by Sanderson, and upon information and belief, substituting other performers
21 from whom Defendants earned a higher commission; c) attempting to misappropriate
22 a business opportunity by making knowingly false and misleading representations
23 regarding Sanderson's availability and replacing Sanderson with different
24 performers represented by Defendants; d) demanding third party tour organizers
25 submit merchandise sales to PEG rather than to Sanderson so that PEG could 26 commission those sales despite an agreement that merchandise sales would not be
27 commissioned; and e) refusing to disclose all material information in connection
28 with Sanderson's future and prior performances, and payments owed.

63. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' intentional interference with Sanderson's prospective economic relationships, Sanderson was damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

64. In committing the foregoing acts, Defendants have acted with oppression and malice. Sanderson is therefore entitled to an award of punitive damages against each of them, jointly and severally, pursuant to California Civil Code Section 3294.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Negligent Interference With Prospective Business Advantage)

(Against All Defendants)

65. Sanderson repeats and realleges each and every foregoing allegation contained in this Complaint as though said paragraphs were set forth in full herein.

66. There existed a series of prospective economic relationships between Sanderson and third parties who sought to hire Sanderson to promote their products or events, or perform at their nightclubs, resulting in an economic benefit to Sanderson.

67. Defendants were aware of these prospective economic relationships and future economic benefits Sanderson would have derived from those relationships because Defendants were tasked with procuring and arranging such relationships on Sanderson's behalf.

68. Defendants had a duty to act with reasonable care in relation to those prospective economic relationships. It was reasonably foreseeable that Defendants' conduct in failing to do act with reasonable care would harm Sanderson.

69. Sanderson is informed and believes and on that basis alleges that Defendants engaged in wrongful conduct through a) failing to obtain Sanderson's rights to and royalties from musical compositions and recordings while misrepresenting to Sanderson his ownership interest in those musical compositions and recordings, keeping those royalties for PEG and preventing Sanderson from

1 having full ownership of those copyrights; b) failing to pursue performance and 2 sponsorship opportunities brought to Defendants for and by Sanderson, and upon
 3 information and belief, substituting other performers from whom Defendants earned 4 a higher commission; c) attempting to misappropriate a business opportunity by 5 making knowingly false and misleading representations regarding Sanderson's 6 availability and replacing Sanderson with different performers represented by 7 Defendants; d) demanding third party tour organizers submit merchandise sales to 8 PEG rather than to Sanderson so that PEG could commission those sales despite an 9 agreement that merchandise sales would not be commissioned; and e) refusing to 10 disclose all material information in connection with Sanderson's future and prior 11 performances, and payments owed.

12 70. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' negligent interference 13 with Sanderson's prospective economic relationships, Sanderson was damaged in an 14 amount to be proven at trial.

15 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

16 (Unfair Competition, Bus. & Prof. Code §17200 et seq.)

17 (Against All Defendants)

18 71. Sanderson repeats and realleges each and every foregoing allegation
 19 contained in this Complaint as though said paragraphs were set forth in full herein.

20 72. At all times herein mentioned, Defendants were acting as the agent of 21 Sanderson, and were at all times acting within the purpose and scope of such agency 22 and employment.

23 73. Sanderson is informed and believes, and there upon alleges, Defendants 24 a) failed to obtain Sanderson's rights to and royalties from musical compositions and 25 recordings while misrepresenting to Sanderson his ownership interest in those 26 musical compositions and recordings, kept those royalties for PEG, and prevented
 27 Sanderson from having full ownership of those copyrights; b) failed to pursue
 28 performance and sponsorship opportunities brought to Defendants for and by

Sanderson, and upon information and belief, substituted other performers from whom Defendants earned a higher commission; c) attempted to misappropriate a business opportunity by making knowingly false and misleading representations regarding Sanderson's availability and replace Sanderson with different performers represented by Defendants; d) demanding third party tour organizers submit merchandise sales to PEG rather than to Sanderson so that PEG could commission those sales despite an agreement that merchandise sales would not be commissioned; and e) refused to disclose all material information in connection with Sanderson's future and prior performances, and payments owed.

74. By reason of Defendants' fraudulent, deceptive, unfair business practices, and other wrongful conduct as herein alleged, Defendants violated California Business and Professions Code § 17200 et seq. by consummating an unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent business practice, designed to deprive Sanderson of business opportunities and harm Sanderson's reputation.

75. Pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17203, Sanderson seeks from Defendants restitution and the disgorgement of all earnings, profits, compensation, benefits and other ill-gotten gains obtained by Defendants as a result of Defendants' conduct in violation of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et seq.

76. By reason of the foregoing, Sanderson has suffered and continues to suffer damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment as follows:

For the First Cause of Action:

1. a sum in excess of $75,000 as proven at trial; and
2. for punitive damages in an amount sufficient to punish Defendants.

For the Second Cause of Action:

3. a sum in excess of $75,000 as proven at trial.

For the Third Cause of Action:
